It provide our customer with a broad range of support facility like corporate services, Housekeeping services and infrastructure management for both short term as well as long term , making expenses flexible to your company's requirement.

Abhinav Facility Services now offers cleaning for Events ,corporates , homes and offices in in India to make your life easy.

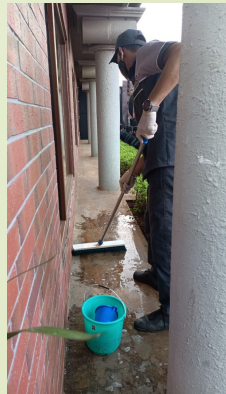

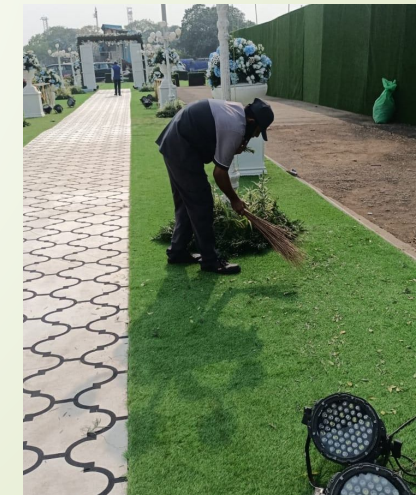

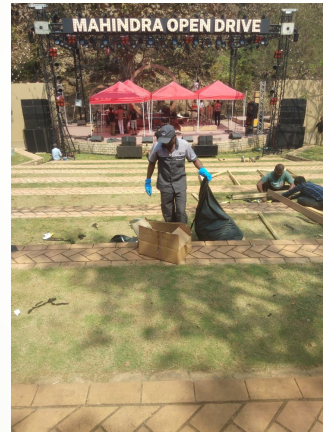

About Us

Abhinav Facility Services now offers one time cleaning for Events ,corporates , homes and offices in India to make your life easy. Cleaning of Events ,corporates , homes and offices is a Herculean task for a non professional in this fraternity but with experience people available one can rely on those expertise and leave it to them rather than attempting on ones own. Some houses and offices do not demand regular cleaning but yes a bare minimum is required and that too very effective if its just done once in awhile and this is just impossible for a layman to achieve and hence one needs to contact us.

With satisfaction guaranteed we would take up one time cleaning that would last long as new and shining for a longer period and keep you away from maintaining it on a very regular basis as far as cleaning is concerned. If you try and do all by yourself you are wasting your precious hours on non productive issues that will lead to loss of man hours and will result in deviation. There are many homes and small offices that would not require cleaning on daily or monthly basis but would require cleaning as a mandate for better living, hygiene apart from presentation of the interiors and hence we recommend one time cleaning services that would not burden or bother you from regular maintenance blues as one time professional cleaning would take good care of the tidiness.

So if you are willing to progress with your life goals with no unwanted hurdles by virtue of no knowledge of non core tasks that are important to ignore, then you must decide to choose to outsource the petty tasks that are of importance and it becomes imperative to outsource it to the best in the market so that the process of advancing toward your goals becomes hazel free. So when you are spending spend on the optimum which gives you best deal for good and rational pricing with no compromise on the quality.

Yes why would one become a tailor to stitch one time petty task, when ready made garments are already available. Similarly if you need to clean just once, you need not take the headache and leave it to the task masters who charge you nominal for a quality. So leave the one time cleaning of your premises to us. You need to remember that even indecision is a decision and the longer you take the more it takes for the quality results to reach you caused due to the delay in decision making Abhinav Facility Services are dedicated to keep your premises clean and what more the team comes with professional background and experience. Our services are available in India. The trained, well groomed and skilled staff would be dealing with the entire job of operations with an ostensible feel of expertise and finesse. Just imagine that you haven't outsourced housekeeping now that occupy your chart of tasks responsibilities. Now that housekeeping is an indispensable activity that one cannot ignore but again not at the cost of the main aims of the organization it calls for an expert owning up the problem who is not belonging to the team thus taking the burden off the shoulders of the main business of your establishment. It saves your energy on planning, manning and troubleshooting as these would be the key responsibilities of the outfit owning up the task in your premises to maintain it.

The uniformed staff would be distinct in appearance and mannerisms apart from its work forte.

The house keeping would include regular toilet cleaning during the working shifts.

The staff would adhere to its schedule of floor cleaning management routine.

The carpet cleaning would be done effectively regularly to keep the ambience fresh.

The walls of the interior premises would be cleaned and kept tidy.

The cobwebs would be history as a result of regular minute cleaning regime.

Cleaning of glass doors windows on regular intervals would keep the premises tidy presentable 24x7.

This could be extended from office to the entire building including the premises and also the home and guest house cleaning.

With outsourcing with a contract of end result and failure proof procedures that would be ensured with service level agreements the establishment outsourcing the task would be simply sleeping over maintaining sustaining and operating in its non core areas as it would be operated by us in the most effective way. This will lead the business to focus on its core areas and avoid the otherwise non productive yet counter productive task if neglected. All this comes at an effective price and best services with savings on time and money if the company did not outsource.

Hospitality & Housekeeping

On one hand your premises of office and guests houses are shining with our dedicate staff focusing on the given task of keeping it new and neat, meanwhile on the other hand we also extend our services to the hospitality management apart from effective house keeping. Now the same services are available with Abhinav Facility Services in India.

The uniformed staff would be distinct in appearance and mannerisms apart from its assigned tasks and work forte. We provide:-

1)Office boys 2) Pantry boy 3)Executive house keeper 4)Supervisor

Your botherations and worries on hospitality and house keeping staff now ends here as we are ready with our well trained, skilled, well mannered and groomed staff to take care of your organization activities that involves pantry work and serving. Also a house keeper executive who knows his tasks well to ensure smooth operations within the house with respect to house keeping. Further we also provide staff for office work thus eliminating your search for an office boy and above all we would also depute a supervisor to supervise and monitor the daily proceedings and ensure zero deviation from the zeroed down tasks. Our staff of pantry boy, executive house keeper, office boy and supervisor would be highly reliable and good quality people who effectively handle tasks

By doing so the time consumption on these task force search, grooming and execution would be saved and the same could be diverted in effective business goal realization of the organization's core issues that contributes to the very existence of it in the market. Why should any member in the organization spend any extra time on tasks that do not require ownership. It should be given to the experts who know head and tail of it and can operate without interfering in the organizational core tasks.

This will also solve a lot of HR related issues that would otherwise burden the organization. Just imagine one major headache of maintaing and executing the work for the presentability is eliminated from the work list but yet you get the end result effectively every day every moment month on month year on year. Thus, making it a worthy bonus with no pain.

So if you are willing to progress with your organizational goals with no unwanted speed breakers by virtue of energy consumption of non core tasks then you must decide to choose to outsource the petty tasks that are of importance and it becomes imperative to outsource it to the best in the market so that the process of advancing toward your goals becomes hazel free. So when you are spending spend on the optimum which gives you best deal for good and rational pricing with no compromise on the quality.

OUR VISION

To create a zero waste world through circular economy

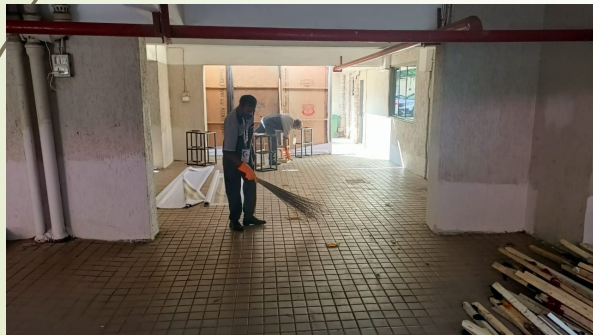

CORPORATES

Corporate organizations and tech parks comprise a major portion of our clientele. Abhinav Facility Services provides a complete end-to-end essential office waste management system for all kinds of waste. We are driven by systems and processes with a laser focus on accurate data collection and reporting. Abhinav Facility Services takes pride in having high compliance with labour laws, operational health and safety requirements compliance with various statutory requirements.

To ensure effective office waste management in India, we work with various departments of our client's teams to help their organizations achieve their sustainability goals. Awareness programs and employee engagement lie in the heart of our efforts.

INSTITUTIONS

Abhinav Facility Services is one of the top waste management companies in India that offers holistic waste management services to schools and colleges to ensure the effective diversion of waste generated at these institutions from landfills. Through periodic interactive sessions with students, our team also educates young minds about the best practices of zero waste management - segregation at source, composting and recycling, for instance. This goes a long way in imbibing the values of sustainability and awakening environmental consciousness into the future leaders of our nation.

RESIDENCES

Abhinav Facility Services is a pioneer in providing professional decentralized Waste Management solutions in India. Over the past decade, Abhinav Facility Services has developed a good understanding of the dynamics of how residential outfits can be steered towards establishing good residential waste management solutions. It involves close coordination with all stakeholders including Resident Welfare Associations, property managers, resident volunteers, housekeeping teams, and maintenance staff.

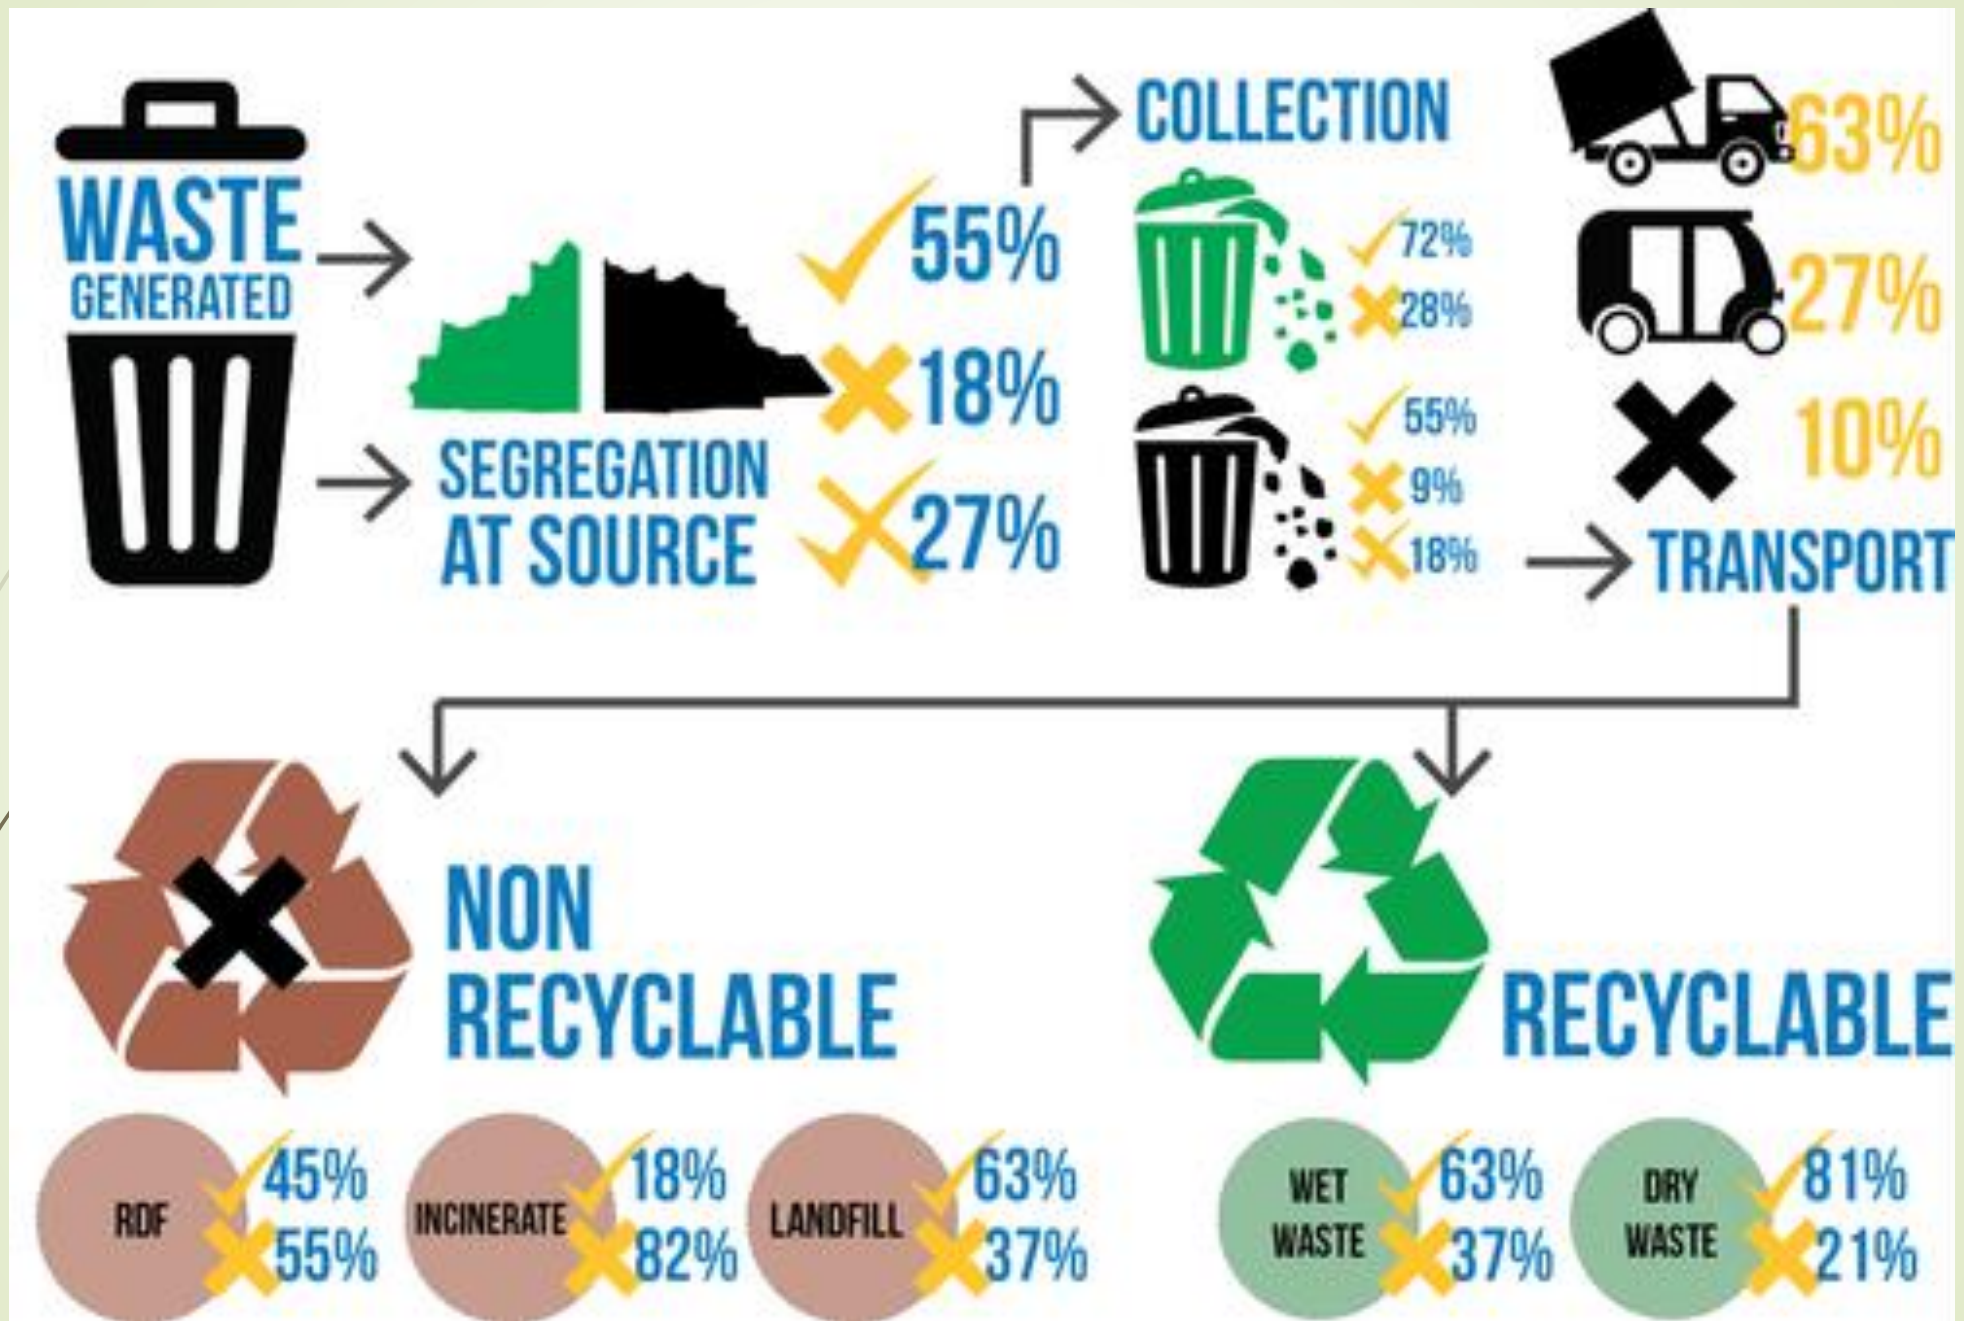

AWARENESS

Awareness about the importance of sustainable waste disposal management and its best practices are the key to ensuring its effective adoption. Our training and awareness sessions incorporate the basics of waste segregation, waste types, and how one could minimize their carbon footprint.

We customize our training, awareness and engagement sessions for all sorts of audiences, ranging from school students to senior management in large corporate agencies. Our sessions are generally delivered as a part of our SOP, prior to commencing operations at our client premises, to the housekeeping staff and waste generators. However, we also take up specially designed engagement sessions and activities on an ad hoc basis as well.

WASTE MANAGEMENT CONSULTING

With 2 years of practical experience in holistic waste management, Abhinav Facility Services has built up considerable expertise in understanding different types of waste and the best ways to manage it as per applicable regulations.

This places us in the sector as a leading waste management consultant to provide advisory, consultancy, research and auditing services related to circular economy, resource recovery, reverse logistics, waste handling and sustainable development goals (specifically relating to waste) to Corporates , international agencies and companies.

We provide comprehensive guidance regarding extended producer responsibility (EPR) obligations under Plastic Waste Management Rules, 2016 and E-Waste Management Rules 2016 including preparation of EPR plans and obtaining relevant authorizations from pollution control boards.

We also conduct waste management audits for companies to understand their waste generation pattern and related environmental impact. In this context, we also design state of the art waste management units for onsite handling and processing of solid waste generated.

As one of the foremost waste management consultants in India, Abhinav Facility Services works with a number of international organizations on providing insights about the waste management sector in India. We have participated in various research studies on waste generation, waste value chain and solutions to manage different waste streams. We also facilitate the exchange of waste management solutions and analysis of best practices across similar ecosystems. ZW provides advisory services to different state and local governmental bodies in preparation of waste management policies, bye-laws and strategies on holistic and decentralized management of municipal solid waste.

With various governments placing bans on single-use plastics and putting forth strict guidelines on managing other plastics, municipal solid waste and e-waste, more and more organizations are looking for ways to responsibly manage the waste they produce.

Here at Abhinav Facility Service, we can help small and large companies, governments and international agencies understand the Indian waste sector including the regulatory framework and design waste management solutions that are based on the principles of reduce, reuse, recover and recycle.

Get in touch with us to know more about extended producer responsibility (EPR) obligations, sustainable decentralized waste management systems, waste management audits and other consultancy services that we provide.
